Arrest 8 on Auto Thefts, Dismantling

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

"I always check every rental type truck I see in town," Venice Police Officer John Meehan commented during the week-end.

Meehan's check of a rental truck at 8:30 a.m. Saturday resulted in the arrest of six men who allegedly had been stripping five late model luxury cars and loading the parts into the rental truck on Kerr Island, near the Mississippi River levee just off the 100 block of Dixon Road.

The arrest took place later in the day.

A guard on the nearby construction equipment training site told Meehan he had seen a car pass the area twice.

Meehan began checking the area and noticed the truck. The Venice policeman walked into the woods off the road, where he described as a soft metal pinging sound.

Meehan called for assistance and he and Venice Officer John Crook related seeing seven men apparently removing the front end of a 1972 Buick Riviera.

"When they saw us coming, they took off like a bunch of quail," I fired a warning shot in the air and two of them stopped," Meehan recalled.

"Crook and I caught four of them. If it had not been for Tom (Madison Police Officer Tom Voloski) we would have only caught four," Voloski arrested two, and the seventh man escaped.

Voloski, responding to the call for assistance, was approaching from the north on top of the levee. He saw two men running in high weeds, heading west.

Using a police car public address system the Madison officer ordered the two to stop and one did. The other kept running and tried hiding in the weeds.

Handcuffing the one who had stopped, Voloski searched on foot.

Sensing the man was near, but hidden in the weeds, the officer fired a shotgun blast into the air and ordered the second man to surrender; he did.

Roy Koberna, a Granite City police officer, helped transport the six to jail.

Three were held in Madison, two in Venice and one was transported to the detention home in Edwardsville.

The men were charged with theft and were held pending posting of bond.

Bond was set at $5,000 on each of the six.

Dr. Vasileff Devoting Full Time to Teaching Dentistry

Dr. Vasil Vasileff did not graduate from dental school until he was 36 years old.

"By that age, many dentists have a decade of experience behind them," he noted, "I knocked around for a long time before I finally chose my career."

A native of Madison, he has joined the faculty of the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine as a large private practice in Granite City that lasted 20 years, despite his late start.

Before entering the St. Louis University School of Dentistry, Dr. Vasileff earned an A.B. degree from Washington University in 1935 and accumulated enough additional college credits over the years to have earned another.

"I loved the outdoors, so I studied forestry for awhile at Utah State University," he said. "I also taught chemistry and biology in Madison schools and worked at a restaurant and taught airplane mechanics in the Air Force during World War II."

Dr. Vasileff said he was accepted by the St. Louis University dentistry school at his advanced age "because I had teaching experience and the dean was looking for faculty members."

When he graduated in 1950, he joined the faculty as an instructor, first teaching full-time and then shifting to part-time teaching of dental radiology.

At the new SIU dental school in Alton since May, he is pleased with his new job.

"I've waited for a long time to wind up as full-time professor," he said. "I feel my experience can contribute to the dental school."

In the classroom, Dr. Vasileff will teach courses in dental radiology, dental anatomy, dental chemistry, physics, engineering and biological application of metals and cements to restorative dentistry.

In the dental school's clinic, he will specialize in teaching prosthodontics, orthodontics and endodontics (treatment of diseased nerves).

Dr. Vasileff thinks the SIU dental school, the first in Illinois outside Cook County, will help ease the shortage of dentists in many parts of the state, including some areas in this region.

"There are serious shortages in rural areas, but the problem isn't limited to those areas," he said. "Granite City has good dentists, but with a ratio of about one dentist to every 1,000 people."

Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Hay Fever But Were Afraid to Ask

Hay fever victims do not have poorly tuned equipment.

Their body chemistry unfortunately, works too well, according to Dr. Max Samter, a leading immunologist and professor of medicine at the University of Illinois Abraham Lincoln School of Medicine.

It is no consolation to the sufferer, probably, with peak ragweed pollen season just days away, but, "he has extra sensitive lymphocytes in his bloodstream that recognize ragweed pollen as an 'enemy' and trigger a process called an allergic reaction," the Press-Record said.

"Fortunately, my lymphocytes don't distinguish the pollen as alien—hence I have no hay fever," he said.

There are five stages of the hay fever process and each has a corresponding treatment method.

The first is exposure to the "allergen," a pesky little grain that helps ragweed make more ragweed.

"Right now, the best treatment for hay fever is to keep the patient away from the ragweed or the ragweed away from him," Dr. Samter emphasized.

"The desert and the mountains, for instance, have climates that prevent ragweed from growing in seasonal comfort of sufferers."

Ragweed-free Europe and Asia are popular with people who are disposed to ragweed allergy. They don't produce the antibodies, but possess lymphocytes which are disposed to do so if exposed to ragweed.

Such persons are classified as "atopic" by immunologists. Orientals, with a greater disposition to be atopic in the first place, often develop hay fever quickly upon arrival in the U.S., even though a single breath of ragweed pollen has not yet made them atopic.

Only 10% to 20% of atopic persons are actually afflicted with hay fever—a finding that still puzzles immunologists.

Those six million sufferers who are both atopic and further cursed by the late summer pollen problem produce antibodies in the process's second stage when first exposed to ragweed pollen.

EARLY, EARLY CLASS TODAY. School bells rang at 7:30 a.m. today at Madison Junior High School as sleepy students ended their summer vacation and reported for the first day of classes. The school is being operated on a split-shift this year due to overcrowding. Madison and Venice public schools and most parochial schools in the Quad-Cities opened today. Granite City public schools will begin classes tomorrow, and St. Elizabeth School Wednesday.

News Notes

Vote Registrar Suit

Ben Allen, a former assistant state's attorney, last week filed a petition for mandamus in the Democratic-leaning Quad-Cities and three in the GOP-leaning Alton-Godfrey area.

He said he thinks Miss Hoz meets the authorization for temporary registration centers, but that if she continues having permanent registrars their number and party affiliation must be altered.

Instead of campaigning Tuesday at Scott Air Force Base and at the Hunter Packing Co. in East St. Louis, Democratic Vice-President nominee R. Sargent Shriver will devote this week to campaign strategy talks in Washington with President nominee Sen. George McGovern.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board is to meet at 3 p.m. Wednesday at 720 Olive St., St. Louis, to consider a letter from board members to the chairman regarding the Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., airport site proposal. The board may clarify a vote of a month ago and is expected to affirm its support of the site.

Other business will include a resolution from the Housing Task Force on proposed endorsement of the general direction of a community Development (Housing) Plan.

Seats are still available for a U. S. Air Force Band concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, located off Highway 466 near Belleville.

The free two-hour concert celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Air Force will feature the official chorus of the Air Force, the Singing Sergeants. Music fans who failed to obtain tickets earlier are expected to arrive on time.

President Image Building For Percy; Chuck Vs. Ted Charisma Battle in 1976?

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield—No matter how many public denials he makes, Statehouse Republicans are convinced that U. S. Senator Charles H. Percy already has opened his drive for the Republican nomination for President in 1976.

Even before Illinois GOP leaders left for Miami Beach, the word was out from the Percy camp that the senator would play a major role at the National Convention.

His advance schedule called for appearances before delegations from most major states. The prime purpose was to give Percy a chance to sell himself to delegates, many of whom are expected to be back in 1976.

Although Percy's effort to liberalize delegate representation at the 1976 convention brought him attention from the news media, the feeling here was that he was not as much interested in changing the complexion of the future convention as he was in gaining additional national exposure.

Illinois-based Percy loyalists believe that he can win the nomination four years hence not by lining up any potential delegates this far in advance but in gradually creating a personal image so strong that Republicans will be unable to reject him if they hope to retain the presidency.

In short, they reason, Percy will emerge as "the man who can win" in 1976 and that no other Republican will be able to fit that image.

The Percy people dismiss President Spiro Agnew as one who would be unable to attract the broad voter support necessary to win the presidency on his own.

Agnew, they say, will rule out Governor Ronald Reagan of California and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Percy is 63 and at 57 would be at about the right age for a president.

Percy's advocates also take for granted that Massachusetts Sen. Edward "Ted" Kennedy would be the Democratic nominee.

They contend that the only Republican who could match him in "charisma" would be Percy, who looks far younger than his years.

Prominence at the Miami Convention was a step in developing the Percy presidential effort.

Step Two will be a determined effort to achieve a landslide U. S. Senate election victory over Democratic opponent Roman C. Pucinski. A number of polls indicate this is within grasp.

By winning big, substantially increasing his 422,003 plurality in 1966 over Democratic incumbent Pucinski, H. Douglas, Percy would be following the route of John F. Kennedy, who demolished a Republican unknown in Massachusetts in 1958, roared on to the presidential nomination and election two years later.

If Percy is re-elected handily, one can expect to see him a busy speaker across the United States in the next four years.

His immediate problem is not only to crush Pucinski, but at the same time keep his fences mended with Illinois Republicans, many of whom are unhappy with what they consider his too frequent liberal positions on major issues.

Whereas it is dangerous that some conservative Republicans might mark for Pucinski just to discourage Percy's presidential ambitions.

Around-Clock Environmental Laboratories

By JOAN MURARO
Copy News Service

Springfield—Six regional laboratories testing for environmental pollution in Illinois will be merged into three full-service facilities with the goal of performing any lab test, around the clock.

One of the three regional facilities is already on a three-shift, 24-hour basis and the second will go to around-the-clock status in a few weeks, after moving into a newly-built facility.

The consolidation, which reduces duplication of effort and equipment, has resulted in greater efficiency and greater productivity while reducing the numbers of personnel required, according to J. C. McCaffrey, manager of EPA laboratory.

The three central EPA laboratory centers are now located at Chicago, serving the northern third of the state; Champaign, serving the middle third, and Carbondale, serving the southern third of Illinois.

The Champaign facility has been operating round-the-clock since early May.

Twenty-four-hour staffing will begin as soon as the Chicago lab moves from its present location to a new building, not only eliminating over-crowding which exists but, according to McCaffrey, "becoming one of the best labs of its kind in the Midwest" with the most up-to-date pollution testing equipment available.

Since 1970, when the Environmental Protection Agency was established, testing volume has increased enormously, with the end product not yet in sight.

In 1970, 163,000 tests were performed.

The number rose the following year to over 183,000, while in the first 10 months of EPA's third year, the number is already above 257,000.

Meanwhile, between 1971 and '72, the laboratory personnel total was pared down from 38 to 54.

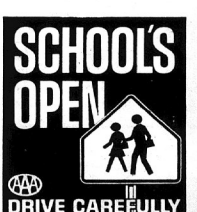

In addition to the three regional facilities, a small auxiliary lab is maintained in Springfield, used only for performing highly technical tests on pesticides, oil and hydrocarbon pollutants.

In addition to trained personnel, the testing labs are "staffed" with highly sophisticated mechanical devices, such as an automatic analyzer and an atomic absorption spectrophotometer.

Soon after completion of a three-month remodeling job, the infrared and ultraviolet/visible spectrophotometer will be added to the Champaign laboratory.

The infrared equipment will be used primarily for identification of oil and petroleum products.

Cautious Driving in School Areas Urged

The Auto Club has launched its 40th annual "School's Open" campaign to remind motorists to exercise the highest degree of caution as youngsters return to their classrooms.

Nearly 12,000 posters and 30,000 bumper stickers are being distributed to remind motorists that "School's Open—Drive Carefully."

Local area law enforcement agencies and school personnel are working together to make it a safe year for children returning to the classroom.

This year's "School's Open" poster shows the new school warning sign which will become a standard marking for school crossings.

All drivers are being urged to give school children an extra margin of safety by yielding right-of-way to young pedestrians, observing school zone speeds, being alert for children in areas around schools away from home than their front yard.

All motorists are being asked to do their part in protecting youngsters.

MORE ABOUT Everything

ma is being studied as a counter-agent to stage three when antibodies level for liver treatment.

A plant extract, the chemical diosquid cromoglycate is promising but still considered experimental for hay fever treatment. Physicians occasionally use cortisone to intervene at the fourth stage of the hay fever process. It is considered risky and used only sparingly, but is effective in making tissue more dense and less conducive to the passage of histamine to the mucous vessels and glands.

Antihistamines, both in pre-cipitate and non-precipitate forms are used to coat blood vessels and mucous glands against the entry of histamines.

Acting at the final stage, antihistamines are probably hay fever sufferers' chief resort.

The bulk of hay fever research is directed toward the lymphocytes which establish the hay fever process. Dr. Samter said.

There is ironic parallel between research in hay fever and that in organ transplants. Among patients receiving kidney transplants, great danger derives from process similar to the hay fever chain.

Lymphocytes recognize the newly implanted organ as alien and set about producing antibodies which destroy it.

Scientists like Dr. Samter seek a means of making the lymphocytes react tolerantly toward ragweed pollen and new bodily organs.

At the same time, the lymphocytes which are cardinal to man's resistance to various diseases of infection must remain intolerant and hostile to viral invaders.

Frequently, transplant recipients are prepared by deactivation of the lymphocytes patrolling their bodies in search of enemy substances.

The high fatality rate arising from that process is weighed against the recipients' life-death need for the new organ. No such overwhelming consideration is made in the cases of hay fever.

Dr. Samter added, "Hay fever was first isolated as a medical phenomenon 144 years ago by John Bostock. He attributed the 'summer catarrh' to heat and to the sun at that time and named it hay fever."

"Final success in the management of hay fever is not just around the corner."

"But I believe the emergence of immunology as a major medical discipline dealing with some of our most perplexing health problems is highly promising."

In addition to the unsolved problems of allergy and the rejection of transplanted organs, immunologists deal with aspects of cancer's origins in searching for clues to its unrelenting development in systems trained to attack so many other invaders.

Regular environmental investigation in Illinois includes routine monthly testing of public water supplies, primarily for bacteria.

Most of this analysis is concentrated at the Champlain facility, where 10 or such tests in a single week, an eleven as many as 700 in one day.

Shift in State Prison System Moving Along

Copley News Service

Springfield — Initial studies are moving along on schedule, and specific sites are under examination, in the state's program for a $15 million shift from maximum security prisons to four small new "community treatment resource centers."

Arthur V. Hoffmann, state criminologist in the Illinois Department of Corrections and program policy advisor who is chairman of the planning task force, said appropriate task forces are meeting in each of the areas where the new facilities are to be located.

On June 9, Corrections Director Peter B. Bensinger announced the Cook County, East St. Louis, Peoria and Moline-Rock Island regions had been selected for the community-based centers for adult male felons.

The largest of the four will be located in Cook County, with a maximum of 250 offenders, while the other regional units will each house up to 150 male adults.

Regional leaders have been contacted and are being encouraged to meet with task force members, in an attempt to minimize any friction resulting to local communities from placing the facilities there.

The sites were all chosen after a series of seven public hearings held in May and June, to determine community reaction and the resources available.

Underlining that the new facilities will be "resource centers, rather than just new, smaller, mini-prisons," the planning group stresses that sites were chosen on a basis of number of offenders from the region, availability of technical, vocational, academic training, as well as medical services and possibility for employment on release, particularly among black and other minority groups.

Currently the planning group is receiving input from the various regions, on the number of males sentenced from the area, what they were charged with, and how the case was disposed of, what sentences were imposed, and any other information which may help to set up specific programs which will be most effective in each region.

The 12 member planning task force, headed by Hoffmann, includes representatives from the state law enforcement commission, the department of corrections, the state chamber of commerce, the office of the supervising architect, and from the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, as well as an attorney from the University of Chicago Law School, and Prof. Frederic D. Mies, who is director of the national clearing house for criminal justice planning and architecture at the state school.

Ogilvie Names Member to Midwest Nuclear Group

Copley News Service

Springfield — Illinois now has a representative on the 12-member Midwest Nuclear Compact. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has named Val Oshel, director of the Illinois Civil Defense Agency, to the group, thereby giving the state "a more powerful voice in communications and negotiations with the federal government on nuclear matters," Oshel also serves on the Illinois Commission on Atomic Energy.

Membership in the compact is made up of the same states which comprise the Midwest Governors' Conference, to provide a means for cooperation with each other in advancing the economies of the individual states and of the region as a whole by taking full advantage of developments in nuclear energy.

Working together under an official arrangement will make it possible for the states to pool projects and activities which individual state programs could not expect to produce, Oshel said.

He added that the compact helps to foster "sound and orderly development of nuclear energy in the Midwest in natural resources, education, agriculture, industry, labor, medicine, and research."

Compact Objective

One compact objective will be planning for mutual state defense.

action in the event of a nuclear incident. In addition, the organization provides a source of skilled and scarce nuclear consulting services as well as positive assistance in advancing nuclear capabilities in a peaceful atmosphere, Oshel said.

In making the appointment, Ogilvie said, "If our region is to grow in the years immediately ahead, we must answer energy needs. We must also start working together on a regional basis to solve the serious environmental problems, since pollution does not respect state boundaries."

"It is my belief that the Midwest Nuclear Compact will be a vital instrument in reaching solutions for both our energy and our environmental problems."

Illinois, Oshel said, is a leading state in the use of nuclear material by medical institutions, industry and power plants. It is a major center of research, development and technology in the nuclear field with Argonne National Laboratory near Lemont and the National Accelerator Laboratory near Batavia.

New Navy Recruiter Begins Duties Here

Raymond H. Deiters is a new member of the recruiting staff of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Branch Station, Federal Building, East St. Louis. He is a data processing technician, first class petty officer.

Deiters enlisted in the Navy Reserve on Dec. 12, 1966. After completing his recruit training, he attended Data Processing Class "A" School on Treasure Island, Calif. Prior to reporting for duty on board the U.S.S. Kearsarge (CVS 33), he attended Management, Maintenance and Material School in San Diego, Calif.

Upon completion of his active duty requirements, the recruit-er affiliated with the Naval Reserve Training Center in St. Louis on Monday and now is a Navy recruiter for the East St. Louis, Cahokia and Granite City areas.

Methodist Youth Day Set at Wesleyan U.

The 10th annual Illinois Wesleyan University United Methodist Youth Day is expected to attract about 2,000 youths and adults from United Methodist churches around the state Saturday, Sept. 23, at Bloomington.

The event will be the first big weekend of the new school year at Wesleyan and will help launch the home football schedule for the 1972 season. Wesleyan will play Wheaton in a College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin game at 1:30 p.m. in Wesleyan Stadium.

Campus tours will begin at 9 a.m. Lunch will be served in Fred Young Fieldhouse at noon. Visitors may attend a pep rally in the stadium at 1 p.m.

Special Education Faces Task of New Programs

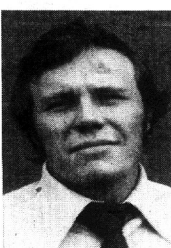

"Special education this year will be faced with the task of implementing new programs which drastically may change the methods of dealing with handicapped children, but which should show positive results," William Stuart Mills, the new supervisor of Special Education Region District I, commented as he explained how he sees his new role.

"In the past, special education services have been handicapped by inadequate legislation, a lack of trained professionals and a variety of other problems. Most of these major problems now have been resolved and we now must implement meaningful programs. The time for proving the values of our programs has arrived," Mills said.

Mills, 26, will work under the district's new director, Larry Dew, and as supervisor will be responsible for developing new programs in special education and to evaluate and supervise existing programs.

He also is charged with providing guidance and leadership in the development of a comprehensive and coordinated program to meet the needs of handicapped students in the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts.

Plan Sequential Program
"My most fundamental task will be to plan sequential programs which will aid the child step-by-step from age 3 on through age 21," Mills noted.

WILLIAM S. MILLS

He praised the achievements of special education here in the past but said that unavoidable handicaps led to "a lack of coordination and continuity among the various programs. Instructive for any school program must be organized sequentially with specifically outlined objectives in order to determine what the program is doing for the child," he explained.

"I view special education as an extension of the regular school program. A comprehensive special education program provides for these children who would not be able to enjoy an equal opportunity within the traditional learning environment.

"I believe an effective sequential program can have concrete results and can be extremely valuable to the community and to society in general," Mills said.

Meet Individual Needs
He said that, although an effective program must be tailored to mesh with the regular school program, special education must continue to treat each handicapped child as an individual with individual skills and individual needs.

"Characteristic strengths of a good educational program for handicapped children includes a truly child-centered approach with emphasis on the child's individual development, opportunities for a more individualized system of instruction and a trend toward more relevant learning material for the handicapped student," Mills said.

The special education field needs more teachers who are interested in individual behavioral gains as opposed to how rapidly the child can learn. "plus equals 4," he commented, noting that "Many teachers say they admire the person who is working with handicapped children because it requires special skills."

Rewarding Task
"I only know that I am devoted to special education because when I see a boy on a job he would not have gotten without my special training," Mills promised.

that is rewarding to me. I believe in the principals and practice of the field of special education," the new supervisor commented.

Mills has taught traditional and special education classes at Collinsville, Belleville and Granite City. "I recall one case in which a boy, 15—we called him Sam—was not making satisfactory progress in my traditional biology class. The fundamental course was not structured to his needs because of a reading disability or other problem.

"I spent extra time with him and gave him special assignments tailored to his interests and the results were overwhelming," Mills reflected.

Meet Special Interests
"From Sam I learned that courses oriented toward the subject in most cases can not meet the special needs of children who are learning problems. They need courses oriented toward their needs and interests and more opportunity for individualization than other students," he said.

"I intend to see that such courses are put into effect here and to see that we do everything possible to help each child reach his maximum potential and be as much an asset as possible to society when he completes his education," Mills promised.

Mills holds his bachelor in arts degree from McKendree College with a major in psychology and a minor in biology. He attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and graduated earlier this year with his Masters degree in the field of special education, with concentration in the area of mental retardation.

He taught trainable mentally handicapped children at Belleville in 1969 and 1970 and the following year worked with multiply handicapped pupils at Lake School here.

During the 1971-72 school year he taught classes for educable mentally handicapped students at Granite City High School and Coolidge Junior High School.

He and his wife, Linda, have a daughter, Lisa, who is 3 years of age. They presently reside in Edwardsville but plan to move to Arlington Heights during the school year.

Sacred Heart Sets Free Lunch Policy

Sacred Heart School has announced a free meal policy for Sacred Heart School children unable to pay the designated price.

Sacred Heart School has adopted the following family size and income scale to assist in determining eligibility. Family of One, $2,420 annual income or $201 per month; Two, $3,180 or $265; Three, $3,940 or $328; Four, $4,680 or $390; Five, $5,380 or $448.

Family of Six, $6,070 or $506; Seven, $6,700 or $558; Eight, $7,330 or $610; Nine, $7,900 or $658; Ten, $8,470 or $705; Eleven, $9,040 or $753; Twelve, $9,610 or $800; each additional family member, $570 or $47.

Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships, are urged to apply for free meals for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at Sacred Heart School and may be obtained from the principal, Sister Mary Karla.

The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school meals, Sister Karla said.

In Navy Training

James Paul Townsley Jr., son of Mrs. Betty Townsley of Granite City, has enlisted in the U. S. Navy and presently is receiving his military training at the Navy's new Naval Training Center at Orlando, Fla. After completion of recruit training James will be granted 14 days leave prior to reporting to his next duty station or Service School Command. James is a graduate of Granite City High School.

16 Species of Warblers In Bird Breeding Areas

By PETE BROWN
Southern Illinois University News Service

North of the hamlet of Pomon-a is a natural-bridge stone formation that is one of Jackson County's best known scenic attractions.

Halfway between Pomon-a and the bridge, along Lazy Cave Creek and its flood plain, is something few tourists ever notice but which provokes perhaps far more interest among nature buffs.

Here, concentrated in some 200 acres of wood, canebrakes and fields, is one of the richest bird breeding areas in the mid-western prairie. In the summer it is vibrant with the songs of birds—birds of a variety uncommon to this richly varied part of Illinois.

It's particularly interesting because no fewer than 16 species of warblers nest there. Among them is Swainson's warbler, a bird that does not, as far as is known, nest anywhere else in the state.

Escaped Attention
In fact, the unusual colony of warblers at Cave Creek had even escaped the attention of the U. S. Forest Service, which runs the Shawnee National Forest, which is where all this life occurs.

That is, until three bird lovers named William George, Jack White and John Schwegmann brought up the subject.

George is an Audubon Society officer and associate professor of zoology at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. White and Schwegmann work for the Illinois Nature Preserves Commission.

They have submitted a proposal to the Forest Service, asking that this area be designated and managed as the Cave Creek Warbler Sanctuary. Shawnee National Forest Biologist Carl Siderits says it's one of the few instances he knows of where private citizens have not only requested something like this, but have accompanied the request with detailed descriptions and planning outlines.

Real Surprise
"We've owned that land for 30 years, and we really didn't realize what we had there, in the avifauna that these men have described," Siderits said. "We always like to get suggestions from the public—phone calls, pencilled notes, anything—but this has been a real surprise."

George has checked-listed some 66 species of birds in the proposed sanctuary. Some of them, like the white-eyed vireo and the blue-gray gnatcatcher, "enjoy a numerical density that is only remarkable but perhaps unequalled at any other spot in the state."

Within a few hundred feet of Cave Creek are all kinds of dead trees, with the result that six species of woodpeckers nest there.

One distinct feature of Cave Creek is its stand of giant cane, an essential nesting habitat for Swainson's warblers. The cane is also attractive to fishermen and bean growers. The sanctuary proponents have urged that cutting be discouraged.

Next step for the Forest Service is a point-by-point manage-

Red Division Wins ALL-Star Game 4-2

It was Red Division four and the Blues two in the Inter-City Baseball league All-Star game Sunday at Troy.

The Reds garnered seven hits while committing two errors. The Blues were held to four hits and batted four times.

The Blue team lost the game through errors in the first three innings, and four Red runs were unearned.

Jay Greer, of the St. Mary's Boosters, led the Blue division at the plate with a two-for-three days. He also stole a base and scored a run.

The other Blue run came as Mercer Bill Campbell singled, advanced by Mercer's Jim Greenwald and scored on an overthrow at first base.

St. Mary's, pitched the last four and a half innings allowing two hits.

Mercer and St. Mary's will play at 2 p.m. in Wilson Park Sunday in a game that will break the Blue division tie for second place. It also will be an opening game of the league playoffs.

PRESENTING THE WINNERS TROPHY to Wib Spalding of Pontoon Beach is Mrs. Flo Nelson, den mother of Cub Scout Pack 25 of Roxana. All area scouts were the guests of the Tri-City Speedway for the Pepsi-Cola 100 Friday night. Spalding took home $500 for the victory.

A GOOD SIGN, indicating a wide lead, is given to race car driver Larry Phillips by his mechanics during the Pepsi-Cola 100-lap stock car race Friday night at the Tri-City Speedway. Moments later a $5 rear end gear disintegrated ending Phillips' hopes for the $500 first-place money.

Spalding, Plus Lady Luck, Unbeatable in 100-Lap Race

Larry Phillips of Springfield, Mo., had everything going his way Friday night at the Tri-City Speedway—everything that is except a small quick change gear in the rear end of his stock car which disintegrated five minutes before he would have claimed the top prize money in the Pepsi-Cola 100-lap stock car race.

Phillips, the present Mid-America Stock Car Racing Association (MASCAR) champion, was untouchable while his car was running. One track official described his performance as "the best driving we have ever seen here."

On the 84th lap of the 100-lap feature event, Phillips lapped the second place car of Wib Spalding of Pontoon Beach, giving Phillips a one-half mile lead in the event but the push to get by Spalding apparently was too much for the auto and on the next lap, with only seven and a half miles remaining, Phillips pulled into the pits and dejectedly climbed from his car.

Spalding Wins
That put Spalding into the lead and once again the No. 44 Camaro earned its place in the winners circle. No one was more surprised than Spalding who commented before the race, "It will be a miracle if my car finishes 100 laps. The car was built for short races, not this kind."

But last it did, and the Camaro, specially prepared for the race by mechanics Sandy Anderson and Mel Campbell of St. Louis, looked like it was ready to race another 100 laps after the feature ended.

The victory earned Spalding $500, and the second place finisher, C. C. Corbin of East Alton, took home $250. Joe Northrop of Jacksonville earned $125 for third, Howard Ryder of East Alton claimed $150 for fourth and Norm Cox of Berkley, Mo., won $125 for fifth.

Nine Finishers
Nine cars finished the event from a field of 21 which began the night's competition. The race was halted on the first lap when several cars collided while taking the starting flag.

On the restart, Louie Janssen took the lead but three laps later, he yielded to Spalding and Phillips who carried on a wheel-to-wheel battle through the eighth lap when Phillips took command.

The red flag halted the race in the 32nd lap as the car of Mike Glass of Edwardsville hit the guard rail in the fourth turn.

Vandalism, Theft at Prather Junior High

A starting pistol and $3.50 cash were taken from Prather Junior High School, it was reported Friday.

There was no sign of forced entry but the trim and door glass had been removed from a classroom and the principal's office. Vent panels were removed from all storeroom doors, the school office and a cafeteria storeroom. Access to the safe was gained by tearing away sections of a wall.

PARKING LOT ACCIDENT

The autos of Raymond Kahn, 234 Terminal Ave., and Michael Green, 210 Springfield Ave., collided on the parking lot of the National food store at 4:05 p.m. Friday.

TO BUY, SELL, RENT OR HIRE USE WANT ADS

and a bumper from his car fell onto the track surface.

Phillips Fastest
Phillips was the fastest qualifier of the night as he completed the half-mile in 27.61 seconds. Spalding was second at 28.40 seconds, followed by Pat King of St. Louis and Janssen. In competition, Phillips was faster yet as he was clocked at 27.07 seconds during several laps.

Phillips won the 12-lap heat for the fastest cars with Bob Buchanan of East Alton, Corbin and Spalding trailing. Top finishers in the slow heat were Bobby Stanton of Alton, James L. Melino of Jacksonville, Northrop and Ed Lewis of St. Louis.

A special $1,500 stock car event on the small quarter-mile track will be held Friday night with a full program of time trials, a trophy dash, three heats and a 50-lap feature. The event will mark the first time this season that the quarter-mile oval has been used for auto racing.

Time trials will begin at 7:30 p.m. with racing at 8:30 p.m.

Grid Practice Limited With School Opening

With the opening of school today in Madison and Tuesday in Granite City the Warrior and Trojan high school varsity football teams will switch to after-school practices.

The two teams started their workouts on Aug. 25 and have been practicing twice daily, including weekends. The grid season is three weeks away.

"We have a small team this year and only a couple of returning lettermen so we will be depending on speed and brains to keep us in the game," Trojan Coach Al Vander Haar said.

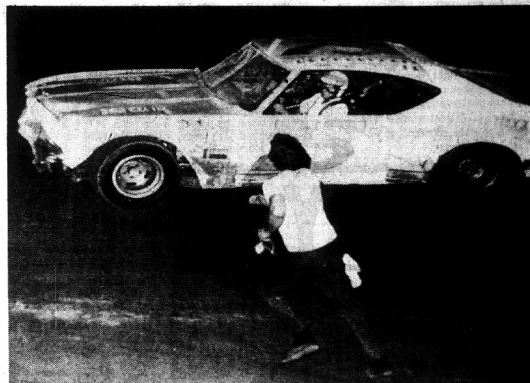

The Trojans will open on the road at 4 p.m. Sept. 15 against Central on the O'Fallon field. The Warriors face a tough schedule, opening at Riverview Gardens with an 8 p.m. game on Sept. 15.

"Of course we have a lot of work to do in practice and our team needs to become more polished but we should have a good season," Wayne Williams, the GCIS grid mentor, commented.

"What we need is experience. We have the talent to win ball games but we graduated 17 varsity lettermen and the fellows returning have a lot of talent but lack real varsity playing time."

GCIS lost 10 varsity defensive starters and seven offensive starters through graduation.

IN TROUBLE. A mechanic rushes to the side of the race car of Larry Phillips as the race leader coasts into the pits. Phillips led the 100-lap feature race to the 85th lap and had a half-mile lead over the second place car of Wib Spalding when a quick-change gear broke, taking him out of competition.

Use Pink Envelopes For Car Plate Forms

Motorists submitting pre-printed applications for 1973 registration of their cars should use the pink return envelope which accompanied the application, Secretary of State John W. Lewis has advised.

Many motorists have forwarded their applications in white envelope which was used to send the applications to them, Secretary Lewis said. The post office treats these as undeliverable returned mail, which requires that all returned mail be sorted to determine which is actually undeliverable and which contains applications and fees.

This creates the danger that some applications will be missed and the applicants may lose desirable license numbers as a result, he added. About 50,000 pieces of such mail have been received so far.

Mailing of all 4.5 million pre-printed applications was completed early this week, a month in advance of the end of mailing a year ago, Lewis said.

Motorists desiring to retain their present license numbers must have their applications in the Secretary of State's office on or before Sept. 30, the statutory reassignment deadline, he pointed out.

The station wagon of Mary Marshall, Kirkwood, Mo., stopped for traffic on Route 3 in front of A. O. Smith Corp., was struck from the rear by the auto of Alvin A. Potts, 26, of 1808 State St., at 4 p.m. Thursday. Potts said he was unable to stop before striking the station wagon.

Steel Output in July Down to Seasonal Factors

Domestic steel production dipped during July, partly because of the long Fourth of July weekend and the beginning of the summer vacation season, which affected operations of steel consumers.

According to American Iron and Steel Institute, mills in the U. S. produced 10,341,000 tons of steel during the month. This was a drop of 639,000 tons from June's 10,980,000 total, but substantially more than the 9,942,000 tons of output recorded in July of 1971.

Through the first seven months of 1972, domestic steel-makers poured an estimated 76,414,000 tons of steel, compared with a total of 81,711,000 tons for the comparable period of last year.

In July, the basic oxygen furnaces continued to widen its lead over other steelmaking processes. During the month, B-O-Fs made 5,964,000 tons of steel—or 57.7% of total output. Open hearths produced 2,794,000 tons—or 27% of July production—while electric furnaces poured the remaining 1,583,000 tons produced during the month.

During the first seven months of 1972, oxygen furnaces output totaled 42,749,000 tons, compared to 20,266,000 tons for open hearths and 13,397,000 tons for electric furnaces.

In the same period of last year, B-O-Fs poured 41,879,000 tons, open hearths 26,548,000 tons and electric furnaces 13,285,000 tons.

AIISI's steelmaking index, based on average 1967 production as 100, stood at 85.7 in July, 1972. This compares with an index of 105.0 for June and 110.5 for May.

Have Openings for YMCA Family Camp

YMCA Family Camp '72' sponsored by the Tri-City Area YMCA in Granite City at Camp Piasa at Pere Marquette State Park over the Labor Day weekend still has openings for approximately 12 families.

Camp Director Kent Dunn said, "This year's camp should be more exciting and fun for all members of the family than last year which was a great success." New activities, as well as the good old standbys like swimming, hiking, archery, volleyball games, and tournaments are planned.

Camp Piasa will open at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 2, for campers. After checking in, the swimming pool will be open for all campers. Check out time is set for 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 4. Cost for the two nights, lodging and 6 meals is $9 for adults (13 & up) $7 for youth (6-12) and $4 for youth (2-5). Children under 2 are not charged.

HOME LOOTED

Burglars took a portable television, a wrist watch, a carton of cigarettes, a radio-cigar lighter, a pillow case and an undetermined amount of frozen meat from the home of H. F. McClary, 2247 Delmar Ave., after breaking the glass in the rear door, the owner reported Thursday.

Percy Urges Full Use of Voter Registration Laws

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) reports that nearly a quarter of Illinois' eligible voters are not registered.

Percy said Illinois law permits widespread and convenient voter registration, but that these laws are not being fully utilized.

Of the 7 million eligible voters in Illinois, Percy said, 1.8 million remain unregistered. He said that the Illinois Secretary of State John W. Lewis, and all 102 county clerks, Percy urged an aggressive implementation of state election laws to maximize voter registration.

Percy noted in his letter that only 76% of the state's eligible voters are registered, and called this "clearly an unacceptable level of registration."

In past elections, 63% of the voters have been registered. Percy said. To attain that level this year, it would be necessary to register 400,000 additional voters before election day.

Percy urged the officials to take advantage of state codes designed to foster registration, so that Illinois can be a model for the nation as a state with maximum voter participation."

These codes, Percy observed, permit the appointment of deputy registrars and the establishment of temporary registration sites in such areas as shopping centers, business districts and public buildings.

Free Lunch Policy Set For Venice Schools

The Venice School District has announced a free meal policy for district school children unable to pay the designated price.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility:

Family of one, $2,420 annual income or $201 monthly income; Two, $3,180 or $265; Three, $3,940 or $328; Four, $4,680 or $390; Five, $5,380 or $448.

Family of six, $6,070 or $506; Seven, $6,700 or $558; Eight, $7,330 or $610; Nine, $7,900 or $658; Ten, $8,470 or $705; Eleven, $9,040 or $753; Twelve, $9,610 or $800; each additional family member, $570 or $47.

Families falling within these scales or those receiving public assistance or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free meals for their children.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school.

Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school meals, school officials said.

State Laws Guarantee Education of Handicapped

Copley News Service

Springfield—Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has signed a series of bills which will guarantee that all handicapped children in Illinois will receive a state-assisted education, regardless of the severity of their handicaps.

Mental health leaders have praised the new legislation, which they claim will, with other bills enacted in recent years, make Illinois the "number one state in the nation" in the field of special education for the handicapped.

Under the new legislation, public schools will be required to provide tuition aid to educate youngsters in private facilities, if they are too severely handicapped for public school programs.

Companion legislation will give school districts the option of operating a program for such severely handicapped children, qualifying for additional state reimbursement.

Another bill approved provides that where school districts are reimbursed by the state for special education programs for gifted children which operate on a full-time basis, the reimbursement will be increased by 18 1/2% of the amount paid for each school day in excess of 185 days per calendar year.

Other pieces of legislation provide for registration and retaining of teachers. One sets up $100,000 for an unusual scholarship program to retrain teachers of the handicapped in certain inner-city or rural areas who are not presently certified.

Teachers applying for this program must agree to teach for two years in the poverty areas from which they applied.

Under other new legislation, the department of mental health will be required to make periodic reports of residential facilities that do not meet standards, explain why they do not, and what is being done to correct the situation.

One other bill will allow public school special education joint agreement participants to remove themselves from the jurisdiction of the participating districts and become separate entities.

Another bill provides for certification of teachers for pre-school classes. It is linked to previous bills which became effective July 1, extending to thousands of handicapped pre-school youngsters between the ages of 3 and 5, the right to a public education. State funding for special education programs was greatly increased by that legislation.

Police Perform Well Under Tough Conditions—Ogilvie

By GOVERNOR
RICHARD B. OGILVIE

I read about 10 newspapers a day, in addition to dozens and dozens of letters, memos and reports.

My reading tends to supplement and confirm what people tell me in person—hundreds of them every week.

As an experienced reader, I was deeply struck just this week by the coincidence of five stories involving policemen in a single issue of a single newspaper.

None was a big headline story—but taken together, they tell much of the full story of our law enforcement men.

I have called policemen "the front-line soldiers of the safe and lawful society we all seek." They are that—but there's more to be told.

Consider the five news stories:

—Policemen help to dress two neglected little boys and take them to a foster home after rushing their little sister to a hospital.

—Policemen seize a knife-wielding robber without injuring him.

—Twenty policemen wait out a crazed and armed man who threatened violence and refused to listen to his family. Again, the man was not injured, despite the heavy weapons the policemen had at the scene.

—Policemen barricade a paving supply firm despite charges that a politician asked for the action to help a rival firm.

An off-duty policeman is suspended after shooting a youth during a quarrel over a fender-bender accident.

In the first three cases, the police were acting with compassion and skill under difficult circumstances, and the news accounts seemed to take it for granted police would be on hand to help.

That's one very important element in the story of our policemen today—we do take for granted their every day actions to help people in trouble.

I was struck by the picture of two policemen carrying the little boys in the first story, so I made some inquiries.

A reporter who had been at the scene confirmed my hunch. He said:

"The policemen were nice to the kids. It was a pleasure to see how gently and patiently they handled the situation."

In effect, that's what I saw also in the next two stories, where violence and death could have resulted from improper police action.

Instead, the policemen were patient and they used only as much force as was needed.

Barricading a business firm presents a different side of the police story. The firm's attorney made it clear he thought it was a squeeze play with unpleasant overtones.

—Policemen barricade a paving supply firm despite charges

Be that as it may, police were acting under orders and they obeyed.

In the fifth case, we see still another view of the full story—a policeman who seems to have gone bad.

Considering the terrific pressures we put on policemen, we should not be astonished that they're not 100% perfect.

In my first-hand association with law enforcement men in official positions I have held, I have been impressed time and again by good policemen.

I have seen them take abuse that no untrained person could withstand. I have seen them walk into dangerous situations giving no outward indication whatsoever that they're human enough to be afraid.

And I have worked long hours to identify and discharge that small percentage of men who cannot act with restraint once they've been given a gun and a badge.

The sporadic incidents of police brutality probably cannot be eliminated entirely, but their number can be reduced substantially by good training and leadership.

That effort is just part of what we must do if we expect good men to stand up under the working conditions we impose on our policemen.

They're usually first on the scene, but their actions under fire, so to speak, most surely can be second-guessed by the press, the courts, or by other law enforcement agencies.

Thus their instincts, their training, and the kind of leadership they've had are all put to a severe test at the scene of the action.

Usually there isn't time to look at a lawbook, or consult a doctor, or get advice from the writers of editorials.

Frankly, I think we're darned lucky our policemen do so well so much of the time. And perhaps we take them for granted for a good reason:

Most people are used to the idea that when we're in trouble, we can count on policemen to help.

Teachers March for Return of Tax Funds

Teachers from Alton, Collinsville and Edwardsville marched on the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville Thursday to protest the withholding of school tax funds by the county treasurer's office to pay the cost of tax collection.

About 120 teachers were led in the march by Joseph Pastoris, president of the Illinois Education Association. Pastoris said that, if necessary, the IEA will institute legal proceedings against the county to have the funds returned to the school districts. A similar suit, filed by Venice Township, is pending.

The teachers charged that the money being withheld could be used to pay higher salaries to educators.

Two From Here Among Six Retirees at GC Steel Co. East Granview &

A Granite City resident led the list of six men retiring from Granite City Steel Co. this month. He is Theodore "Ted" Davis, 2610 Sheridan Ave., who completed 40 years of continuous service with the company.

Just one other Quad-City man was included in the retiree group. He is Henry Minceff Sr., 4281 Highway 162. Others to retire were Phillip Beyer Jr. of Edwardsville, Arthur Birdsell of Staunton, Bob Leggat of Olivette, Mo., and Les Lane of Collinsville.

Minceff was a North Plant Black Warehouse chairman with almost 19 years with GCS. He and his wife, Lena, have two sons, two daughters, four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Beyer, despite his young age (47) had the next greatest amount of service among the August retirees. A North Plant millwright, he retired on disability as the top-ranking man in seniority in his unit, starting at the North Plant in October 1946 and as a millwright six months later. Beyer and his wife, Juanita, have three sons and seven grandchildren. One son, Larry, also is a Granite City Steel employee.

Started in 1948

Leggat was director of purchases when he retired. He started with the company as an expediter in the engineering department in February 1948, and was placed in charge of procurement for a major expansion program in 1951. He was appointed purchasing agent in 1954 and director of purchases in 1954. He and his wife, Frances, have three children and five grandchildren.

Lane, a Hot Strip millwright, had more than 16 years with GCS, starting in Yard Maintenance. He and his wife, Flora, live at 203 E. Pennsylvania, Staunton.

Costs of Education Seem To Just Keep on Climbing

By ROBERT BETTS
Copley News Service

America spends more on education than any other country, and the sum gets bigger every year.

From the time a youngster starts school until he graduates from college, his total education will have cost from around $12,000 to $40,000.

Per pupil expenditure at a public school varies according to the financial strength of the school district. It ranges from below $200 to well over $1,000 a year.

Americans are currently spending about $80 billion per school year to educate their children. The total school budget represents almost 10% of the nation's gross national product.

Nearly two-thirds of the sum covers the cost of elementary and secondary education. The rest is spent on higher education.

Most of the bill for public elementary and secondary schools is met by local governments out of property taxes.

State taxes make up the rest, except for a small proportion provided by the federal government, which is used for special programs rather than for general education.

It is estimated that over the next decade the public education bill will go up another $7 billion.

For the 48% of the nation's three million high school graduates who go on to college or university, families must find extra money for incidental fees and living expenses.

Tuition rates have gone up almost 100% over the last 10 years.

While some colleges charge $300 or less, it is today not unusual to find tuition fees of $1,500 or $2,000 a year. Some are even higher.

Average cost of tuition, board and room rose 46% at public colleges and universities and 69% at private institutions between 1960 and 1970, according to government statistics.

Total annual cost of attending college ranges from around $1,500 in rural areas, or at a state university where tuition is kept at a minimum, of $5,000 or more at a prestige private college.

College officials blame inflation for boosting educational costs, which include construction, maintenance, salaries, food, books and equipment. Higher tuition fees still do not cover the increasing cost of undergraduate education, they point out.

The total of federal grants for education, which amounted to $3.4 billion in 1965, is now approaching $12 billion a year.

The House recently passed and sent to President Nixon a $3.1 billion education bill that would increase federal aid to colleges and universities that could provide them with as much as $1 billion a year.

The major educational provisions would:

Entitle every college student to a grant of $1,000 a year, minus what his parents could afford to contribute toward his education.

Authorize $1 billion a year to help elementary and secondary schools desegregate.

And establish a National Institute of Education to foster research into all aspects of the learning process.

Financial aid already is available to students in several forms, including 300,000 scholarships totaling more than $100 million.

In addition to loans offered by colleges (amounting to $78 million), there is a federal student loan program of $150 million a year, plus various state assistance programs.

Interest rates are usually less than those charged on commercial loans.

For those students who cannot afford, or do not wish to spend the time at a traditional four-year college, junior colleges offer a two-year program equivalent to the first two years at a senior institution.

Rev. Garrison to New Church Post

The Rev. Wendell Garrison, pastor of Suburban Baptist Church, 2500 St. Clair Ave., for the past five years, has announced his resignation, effective Sept. 10 when he will deliver his final sermon here. He has accepted the pastorate of the Winstanley Baptist Church at Fairview Heights.

Rev. Garrison, who is a past-president of the Tri-City Ministerial Association, led the Suburban Baptist Church in several new outreach programs such as a Boy Scout Troop, a teen center known as "the basement," a building program that resulted in a new educational and all-purpose building added to the local church facilities, and a substantial membership growth.

The new church in Fairview Heights originally was started in 1907 in East St. Louis. The congregation moved to the suburb in 1970 after building a $500,000 facility on a 20-acre hilltop overlooking Illinois highway 151.

Rev. Garrison will serve a congregation of 1,200 members with full-time assistance from a Minister of Education, secretary and several part-time church employees.

Amvet Turkey Shoots To Resume Sept. 17

The weekly Amvet Post 51 turkey shoots for charitable and civic projects will begin Sept. 17, post members were told during a meeting last night at the post home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

The shoots will begin at 1 p.m. each Sunday through December and may be conducted this year even if it rains due to a new canopy which has been constructed over the Post shooting area, members were told.

Leo Clements, second vice-commander, was named to conduct the weekly shoots. The events are the only fund-raising projects held by the post.

A gift package was prepared for American soldiers in Vietnam. The post donated $25 to assist the post home in Shenell, Ill., which is starting a building program.

Amvets Day will be held Sept. 10 starting at 1 p.m. at the post grounds. All Amvets and Auxiliary members and their families were invited.

Madison County was well represented at the 1972 State Fair. About 100 4-H'ers took part in various 4-H activities at the fairgrounds.

Facilities for Team Teaching, Individualized Instruction in New Johnson Elementary School

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

STUDENTS TOMORROW
will get their first view of the dramatically different Russell D. Johnson Elementary School, Old Alton Road and Norwood Drive.

At the top left is a view of the area where a team of teachers will instruct fifth and sixth graders. The faculty members will be in direct and continuous contact with the students but the teachers' desks of this team actually are located inside the hexagonal enclosed area visible in the right portion of the photograph. A teacher is shown there preparing for the new school term.

At the top right is the kindergarten area. Principal W. Richard Brinkhoff is inspecting "Alpha Time" reading aids. The "pupil" in the chair in the right background is one of a group of inflatable characters representing various letters of the alphabet.

In the above scene of the fifth-sixth grades section of the "open space" school, Brinkhoff reviews some of the books which have been assembled.

The photo at the right gives an idea of the unusual length of open space in the "main pod" of the new school. Dividers, such as those visible in the background, will be used along with bookcases to separate teaching areas. The areas will change in size, as dictated by the individual and group needs of the youngsters, determined by teaching teams. There is a team for fifth-sixth graders, another for third-fourth graders and a third instructional team for the kindergarten-first-second grade group.

The view at the left shows part of the Johnson School library. Principal Brinkhoff is shown there in the left background. The unique design of the building is intended to aid in attaining a high degree of individualized instruction, enabling each child to progress quickly in achieving his capabilities.

Carpeting in the air-conditioned school is a mixture of brown, gold and green, while wall colors include yellow, green, red, orange and gold.

State Will Honor Columbus Oct. 9, Veterans Nov. 11

Copley News Service

Springfield — This year one of the three-day fall holiday weekends is being changed.

Under legislation signed into law by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, Illinois' Veterans' Day will be observed on Nov. 11.

Under an earlier state law, Veterans' Day along with several other holidays was changed to definite Mondays on the calendar. This meant three-day weekends for those who observed the holidays.

Veterans' Day had been changed to the fourth Monday in October after traditionally being observed on Nov. 11, the original Armistice Day of World War I.

When it was moved to October, it meant that two such holidays came in that month. The other being Columbus Day, which this year will be on Oct. 9.

This year, Veterans' Day will be on a Saturday, so some schools and government offices may close on Nov. 10, a Friday. Veterans' organizations report they will conduct their programs on Nov. 11.

Nearly everyone in the state will be observing Labor Day, which this year will be Sept. 4. The holiday legislation did not change the standard observance of Labor Day, which always comes on a Monday.

Another change in the holiday schedule came this year in Illinois, when Abraham Lincoln's birthday was moved back to Feb. 12. That was the traditional day prior to the holiday changes.

It had been changed to one of the Mondays in February. Washington's birthday also was changed to a Monday in February, on a nationwide basis.

The traditional holidays of New Year's, Christmas, Independence Day and Thanksgiving were left alone. They are celebrated on the days upon which they fall on the calendar. State employees this year will be getting still another holiday. That additional day will be Nov. 7, the day of the general election. It has been a tradition in Illinois to close state offices on an election day and the tradition will be observed once again in 1972.

VA Counselor to Aid Veterans at SIUE

A benefits counselor from the U. S. Veterans Administration will visit Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville twice monthly to answer questions of veterans.

John Adamson from the Veterans Administration Hospital in Marion will be available every other Thursday from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the office of the SIUE vice-president for student affairs. He will begin his schedule Thursday.

Adamson said he is primarily interested in meeting with veterans having problems with their educational benefits.

BACKS INTO AUTO

The station wagon of John E. Ingram, 1808 State St., backing from a parking space, struck the parked car of Mickey Loftus, 26 Bermuda Lane, at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue at 12:05 a.m. Friday.

Dental Profs to Preach What They Practice

Two professors at the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine are not only practicing what they preach but are practicing how they will teach.

A course in immunology using teaching techniques to be used at the dental school was conducted this summer by faculty members Arthur Bahn and Wilbert Milligan.

The course stressed individualized learning, with students allowed to assimilate course material at their own speed. Formal lectures were eliminated and grading was based on improvement, with students taking similar examinations before the course began, during the course and at the end of the course.

Enrolled for academic credit were four biology graduate students from SIUE. Taking the course on a noncredit basis were Eugene Maag, associate professor of speech and theater, and Dean Drake of Belleville, who will be in the dental school's first class of students this fall.

Bahn said basic information on immunology was conveyed to students through audio cassettes, accompanied by a written outline, could be taken home for students to be listened to at their leisure or could be played in the university's audio-visual laboratories.

"The students were given three weeks to listen to the series of cassettes, learning the information at their own rate," Bahn said. "After that, papers on immunology were read by the students and discussed in class with students taking turns as discussion leaders."

Drake said he thought the teaching techniques were successful.

"I'd say for a course like this to be beneficial you would need interested, motivated students," Drake said, "but I think dental students will fall into those categories." With grades based on individual improvement, a lot of competition among students is eliminated, creating a healthier learning atmosphere, Drake said.

Drake said courses encouraging dental students to gather and learn information on their own rather than having everything dictated by a lecturer could be beneficial after graduation.

"Dentists have to keep up with developments in their field and courses like this one might help us find material when we are away from a university campus," Drake said.

Voters Casting Greater Number of Split Ballots

The growing tendency of American voters to split their tickets has increased the political responsibility and influence of labor unions, employer associations, and nonpartisan civic groups, according to Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts.

Howlett, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, spoke at the opening of the 62nd annual convention of the Illinois Journeymen Barbers' and Beauticians' Association in the Statehouse Inn, Springfield.

"For the first time in more than 100 years, as many people consider themselves independents as consider themselves Democrats or Republicans," Howlett said.

"Since I was first elected Auditor in 1960, the number of independents in the United States has doubled and redoubled—from six million to 25 million.

Many Split Ballots
"But independent voters are not the only voters who split their ballots. Voters who consider themselves Democrats often vote Republican for some candidates, and a few Republicans often vote Democratic for some candidates.

"More than half the ballots cast today in National elections are split ballots. Twenty years ago, four out of five ballots cast were straight party ballots.

"A recent survey on 100 college campuses found more than half of college-age voters list themselves as independents. The figure was 60% in another survey of college activists.

"This year, there will be 1,321,000 young people in Illinois old enough to vote for the first time in a Presidential election. "Since the young people are more independent of parties than their elders, the number of independents in the electorate—already the highest in history—is sure to grow, and keep growing.

More Responsibility
"The trend of voters away from straight-ticket voting means labor unions, chambers of commerce, business and professional associations, community organizations and other nonpartisan groups, must accept a heavier responsibility in politics.

"If voters want to be selective—if they refuse to affiliate with one party—they must depend on their unions, their employer associations, the communications media, and interested nonpartisan community organizations for information and advice about candidates and issues.

"I believe in the two-party system. I am a Democrat, not an independent. My party includes both liberals and conservatives. It is big enough for every point of view. So is the Republican party.

"Under our system, one party—the ins—organizes and administers the government. The other—the outs—challenges, in-

MRS. JOHN J. VOYLES, the former Miss Judith Anne Grant who was married Saturday evening at the First United Presbyterian Church. She is a daughter of Mrs. Joseph A. Grant, 2104 Garfield Ave., and the late Joseph A. Grant.

Voyles-Grant Nuptials At First Presbyterian

Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary and arrangements of pink and white carnations with urns of palms decorated the altar of the First United Presbyterian Church for the wedding on Saturday evening of Miss Judith Anne Grant and John J. Voyles.

Lighted tapers in aisle candleholders, accented with white satin bows and smilax garlands, provided the setting as the Rev. David B. Maxton performed the double-ring ceremony at seven o'clock.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Joseph A. Grant, 2104 Garfield Ave., and the late Joseph A. Grant, and the groom is a son of Mrs. Walter N. Voyles, Rural Route Seven, Edwardsville, and the late Walter N. Voyles.

Lighting the candles as Mrs. Leon Scroggins sang, "Because," and "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee," was Miss Mary Ruth Snelson and Miss Jamie Byers. Mrs. Isabel Schmidt presided at the organ. Escorted down the aisle by her uncle, James R. Kenney, the former Miss Grant wore an exquisite floor-length gown of white organza over tulle, fashioned with a high-necked bolero bodice fashioned of beautiful fragile lace that was closed with a row of small organza buttons down the back.

Venise lace formed a cap over the very full bishop sleeves of organza and was repeated on the wide cuffs. Insertion ribbon marked the Empire waistline and extended into two rows on the front of the A-line skirt.

The full cathedral train, edged with Venise lace trim, flowed gently from the waistline which was enhanced with a double organza bow. A Venise lace profile headpiece, lavishly embroidered with seed pearls and aurora borealis stones secured her cathedral mantilla veil, accented with a tiny band of scalloped Venise lace. She carried a lace fan topped with an arrangement of white phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and English ivy.

Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Miss Phyllis Hartman, and bridesmaids included Miss Nancy Daniel and Mrs. Gary Sundstrom, the latter from Lisle, Ill.

They were dressed alike in formal-length gowns of tulle, pink and white floral printed voile marked by a bias band of white ottoman fabric at the waistline, matching the gaily and front neck opening of the "V" button bodice. The long sleeves were cuffed with the same fabric and the flowing skirts were softly gathered at the natural waist.

Each attendant wore a profile headpiece of fresh flowers and carried moss green velvet kissing rings arranged with white carnations accented with purple statice and two tiny angels.

The groom chose his brother, William H. Voyles of St. Clair, Mo., to serve as best man. Phillip Hartman, a cousin of the bride, and Dale Hiscoc, the groom's nephew, were groomsmen. Seating the guests was Walter N. Voyles, another brother of the groom, and Harry Hiscoc, the groom's brother-in-law.

Both mothers selected floor-length dresses. Mrs. Grant, in pink sculptured knit designed mother of the bride, was attired with a round neckline embellished with pink pearls and crystal beading that was repeated on the opening of the straight skirt.

Mrs. Voyles appeared in a blue crepe dress featuring an Empire waistline encircled with rose satin covered buttons. They each wore an orchid corsage.

The newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Voyles received guests at a buffet reception given at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton. Miss Melanie Kenney, cousin of the bride, attended the guest book. Members of the wedding party and their families were entertained at a rehearsal dinner at Charlie's Restaurant, given by the groom's mother, Mrs. Voyles, on Friday evening.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, they will reside in Granite City. A graduate of Granite City High School, the former Miss Grant attended Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., and SIUE. She is now associated with her mother in operating Merle Norman Cosmetics Studio in Edwardsville.

Mr. Voyles was graduated from Collinsville High School. He enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps, serving four years, including a year in Vietnam. He is presently attending SIUE. Mr. Voyles is employed in Edwardsville.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Grant of Kansas City, Mo., an uncle and aunt of the bride; Mrs. Wilbur Short of Moberly, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Kenney of Fullerton, Calif., Miss Judy Sterling, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Cecil Hensley of Burbank, Calif.; Pete J. Erio, Mrs. Lewis E. Martin, Miss Michelle Martin, all of Springfield, Ill.; Mrs. Garrett Pittman, Camp Point, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. James Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Kenney and Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Bellaver, all of Hillsboro, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Sundstrom of Lisle, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. William Walker of San Juan Capistrano, Calif.

Another big holiday coming up. Today's ad has lots of good buys for you shoppers who are going to be "heading for the hills". A new item, restaurant size frozen Cheese Cakes is worth your purchase. These are large 28-oz. (regular size is 18-oz.) and are made primarily for Restaurants. The manufacturer is Lambrecht (a Division of Beatrice Foods) so you know the quality is there. This is a one time deal. We purchased a large supply, but when they are gone that will be all.

We had so many requests for larger sizes in men's pants that we did locate some "double knits" in sizes up to "40". These will go out at $6.99. They are "seconds" out of a good manufacturer and the samples we saw looked perfect to us.

Some of our customers are buying the 89¢ neckties and putting them away for Christmas presents. A great idea. You might consider the belts for the same purpose.

The garden shop is getting ready for the big Christmas Season. Lots of the new items are on display already. Stop in and talk to Ruth; she has the inside "scoop".

Dear Nana--What Are Some Activities For Handicapped?: Unusual Hobby Related

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service
Dear Nana:

I don't understand your request for postage when I wrote you about the American Shortwave Club. I didn't get the idea from your column but from a friend of mine.

And what does the birthday remembrance list you enclosed with your letter mean? I have many friends who would like to correspond with others. Perhaps this is a good program. I'm not elderly but perhaps we should begin.

Handicapped people have a real problem as there aren't too many organizations who are interested in them unless they are really crippled.

My husband is partially handicapped due to a stroke. He has difficulties of aphasia and this is a great problem. Yet he's very active and drives a car. But there's no organization that I've been able to contact who have activities for people of this type of handicapped people.

The senior citizens and AARP are for retirement groups. What can be done for people like my husband who want to get together and do things as well as enjoy life?

Families are great and former friends are trying to help. But, I think this is a way of life that everyone should be conscious of and recognize because our society doesn't do so unless there is something you can suggest.

We're active on our own and perhaps you can help suggest other things we should do. We have a great family but realize young people have their own lives to live.

Dear Mrs. J.: As you seem to have several questions that perplex you, I'll try to answer them in the same order as you listed them.

First, the postage request was because you neglected to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a reply. I can't answer all the letters I receive unless they have a self-addressed stamped envelope. I'm sure you can appreciate how expensive it would be for me to absorb the cost of all this postage. However, in your case I made an exception because I felt the information about the American Shortwave Club might be beneficial to your husband.

Second, my birthday card remembrance list is free of charge. Yet it's a way that I can keep in touch with all my readers and also remember their birthdays.

Third, as for organizations for the handicapped such as your husband, I suggest you contact the Chamber of Commerce in your area. I'm sure they'll be able to give you a list of such organizations that you can call.

However, I think you've been misinformed regarding the senior citizens groups. Most of these clubs also have a group for the younger people, 40 to 50, etc. And their activities aren't limited to retirees.

Your husband is as active as you say and is looking for an association of people. I'm sure he could find a great deal of volunteer work among any of these organizations. Check with your local park

GERALD REEVES MARKS 25th ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. and Mr. Gerald J. Reeves, formerly of Granite City, now living in Leona Valley, Calif., were honored with a surprise reception for their Silver Wedding anniversary last week, given by their son, Jerry Jr. and daughter, Candace Lea and Rebecca Sue.

They received many gifts on a lovely tea. The guests included members of a camper club to which the Reeves family belongs. Among the guests were Mrs. Reeves' (formerly Virginia Toerper) father, Louis Toerper, and uncle, George Toerper.

and recreation department or senior citizen center. I'm sure they'll be able to find some activities or programs for handicapped people like your husband.

Thank you for using my letter in your column and the opportunity to let others know about our unusual hobby.

And I'll be glad to answer any questions pertaining to our project or to see that others contact what we in the hobby call Rock Pocks.

This type of hobby can be expensive but we try to introduce people to the facts. For dollars spent on better costume jewelry you can purchase real gems. They can be made into fine jewelry that contains authentic stones.

The club that I am the editor of is a mail and exchange club. We welcome all who are interested in our club from anywhere in the world. No one is left out and we hope that we can interest many people in our work.

The fact that we specialize in a very small size is what makes us a bit different than other local clubs. Also the fact that we do specialize in this small sizes makes it much easier for shut-ins and retired persons with limited space for collections.

Since these specimens must fit into a one-inch cube or a plastic box made for this purpose, the box is called a perky box. Most of them are one-inch square but I prefer the box that is 1 1/2 inch, because the specimen can be slanted or put in any way it will fit. This is for home display. The ones that are one-inch cube.

We are known as "The International Thumbnaill Mineral Club." And I personally will welcome any inquiries about our club. Thank you again for your encouragement and help in introducing our club to others.

Dear D. D. H.: Thank you for your interesting letter pertaining to the facts about your club and hobby.

And I'm sure there will be many inquiries about "The International Thumbnaill Mineral Club."

I just read your column where you mentioned a letter written by "Scorpio." I guess I missed the previous issue that discussed the zodiac signs so I'm wondering if I could have a reprint of your first article on this subject.

I was born Nov. 13 and I'm 5 feet, 9 inches tall, slender and always being told to slow down and not get involved in so many projects.

I have always heard that I was a typical "Scorpio" and have never quite understood what that meant.

I would appreciate hearing from you regarding being a Scorpio.

Dear V. DeM.: From your brief description of yourself, I'd say you sound as if you're a typical Scorpio. However, as I've said before, I'm not an authority on this subject, so I suggest you purchase an astrological book for more information. There are many good ones that can be found on most of the magazine racks. And, I'm sure this will give you a better understanding of Scorpio than I could.

Just being one (a Scorpio) doesn't help in explaining our personalities and complexities.

I'm sorry but I don't have an extra copy (reprint) of the article you're referring to. But I've enclosed a Xerox copy of the original.

Food Ideas--New Book Offers Plenty of Tips

BY THE BASCOMES

Copley News Service
Patience can be a virtue in many elements, the most obvious element being the careful planning required to guarantee success, according to Maurice Moore-Betty in his book "Cooking for Occasions" (David Wiley & Sons, Inc.).

Delightful and whimsical in the overworked serious cookbook field, it has been carefully assembled by Moore-Betty and is based on his many years of practical experience in the preparation and serving of food and his popular cooking courses.

Following distinguished front-line service with the British army in World War II, he apprenticed under M. Avignon, chef of the renowned Ritz Hotel in London. He then ran his own restaurant near Oxford Circus, and migrated to the States.

Here, he has divided his time between his cooking courses, catering for parties large and small, entertaining his friends and putting together a book of recipes for the dishes that he has learned to like the best.

From his ability to present his recipes in an easy-to-prepare manner, the chapter on "entertaining" offers a wealth of very practical suggestions. In selecting menus with great care, Moore-Betty urges that you pay close attention to what can be done in your own kitchen and what you are confident of doing well.

He does not suggest two hot courses unless the occasion is a buffet and recommends looking for flavor, texture, and color when planning menus.

He discusses the cooking and serving strategy of playing one food off against another, how to be an efficient host while enjoying your own meal, the glories and perils of sauces and furnishes useful guidelines and suggestions for setting your table and selecting the wines.

His marinated beef filet is a most recent development that has not yet been published. SHRIMP IN SCANDIA SAUCE

Whole shrimp, preferably with tails intact, surrounding a bowl of Scandia sauce, make a perfect appetizer (with drinks before dinner).

1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. sugar
1 1/2 tbsps. wine vinegar
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash of white pepper
4 tbsps. salad oil

1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tbsps. finely chopped fresh dill
1/2 cup of aluminum foil and bottle. Shake well and allow to stand several hours before serving. This will make enough sauce for four to six servings.

MARINADE FOR FILET

M. MOORE-BETTY
3 bottles regular soy sauce
3 bottles teriyaki sauce
1 large clove garlic
1 tbsps. fresh ginger, grated

Crush garlic and ginger and mix with sauces. Simmer on low fire to meld flavors for five minutes or so, and bottle. Pieces of beef filet may be marinated in this sauce and then sautéed quickly over a hot flame. Serve with a mixed green winter salad.

The dessert is more often than not responsible for the success or failure of a meal. It is a need to be a production -- a bowl of carefully chosen seasonings is often a perfect finale -- but if it is to be a production, here is one of Moore-Betty's favorites:

JOHN'S ICEED
LIME SOUFFLE
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup milk
4 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup fresh lime juice
1 cup heavy cream
3 drops green food coloring
7 egg whites

Oil lightly a one-quart souffle mold. Fold over lengthwise a half strip of aluminum foil and oil it on one side. Tie it around the mold, old side in, to make a collar standing three inches above the top.

Sprinkle the gelatin over the water to soften. Heat the milk in the top of a double boiler. Beat the egg yolks with the sugar until they are light and lemon colored and pour the hot milk over them.

Return the mixture to the top of the double boiler and add the gelatin.

Cook the mixture over hot water, stirring or whisking constantly, until it is thick and creamy, being careful that it does not boil.

Remove the pan from the heat, stir the mixture cool, add the lime juice. Refrigerate until it begins to thicken. Whip the cream until it is thick but not stiff, and fold it into the lime mixture, adding three drops ONLY of green food coloring. Refrigerate until it is just beginning to set again. Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry, and fold them gently into the mixture with a metal spoon.

Spoon the souffle into the prepared soufflé pan and chill for at three hours, or longer if desired. Makes six to eight servings.

MRS. DAVID RONALD COOPER. She is the former Miss Gail Elaine Vogeler, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Vogeler, 2208 Amos Ave. Her wedding took place Saturday evening at the First Assembly of God Church.

Gail Vogeler Married In Candlelight Setting

The wedding of Miss Gail Elaine Vogeler and David Ronald Cooper was solemnized in a candlelight setting on Saturday evening at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

White satin ribbon decorated the pews and lighted candles in branched candelabra illuminated the aisle, providing the scene for the 7:30 p.m. service before an altar decorated with bouquets of white gladiolas and summer flowers.

The Rev. M. A. Groff and the Rev. Roy Baugh officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George R. Vogeler, 2208 Amos Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Cooper, 4212 Maryville Road.

For her wedding, the former Miss Vogeler wore her mother's wedding gown fashioned of ivory satin that featured a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice enhanced with Chantilly lace and long tapered sleeves that formed points at the wrists.

The slightly full skirt was accented with matching lace to create an apron effect. Her mantilla veil of nylon illusion was edged with Chantilly lace and she held a nosegay of white roses, baby breath and greenery.

Mrs. Chris Keel, matron of honor, served with Mrs. Debbie Azorolo and Miss Diane Payne as bridesmaids, and Miss Leann Cooper, a sister of the groom, as junior bridesmaid.

Their dresses were designed in a pinaflore style, with the dress fashioned in a voile floral print and the pinnaflore created in a solid color to provide an apron effect.

The fitted bodices had high mandarin collars and the long puffed sleeves were gathered at the wrists. Large white hats trimmed with colored bands matching the gowns were worn by the attendants. They held bouquets of daisy mums, baby breath and greenery.

Claire Vonnahme, the little flower girl, was attired in a green frock similar to those of the bridesmaid. She carried a basket of rose petals. David Price, a nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer.

The groom chose Paul Azorolo as his best man. Craig Cooper, a brother of the groom, Randall Baer, Gary and Dennis Vogeler, brothers of the bride, and Marion Stawar, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

He is a son of Russell J. Long of Foley, Ala. and the late Mrs. Regina Long.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn performed the double-ring ceremony at 3 o'clock before an altar adorned with bouquets of white flowers and greenery.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were Miss Paulette Fleck, the maid of honor, and Misses Carolyn Hayes and Rosie Mezzano, bridesmaids. Andrea Barton, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl.

Their floor-length gowns were designed in an old-fashioned style of apricot fabric. The gowns featured Empire waists, high necklines trimmed with ruffles and long sleeves with ruffled cuffs.

Barbara Williams Bride Of Jerome P. Lapinski

Miss Barbara Ann Williams, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Williams Jr., 129 Riviera Drive, became the bride of Jerome P. Lapinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lapinski, 2255 Iowa St., Friday evening at the Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Roy Baugh, pastor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, performed the double-ring ceremony at seven o'clock before an altar decorated with bouquets of white summer flowers and branched candelabra holding lighted white tapers. White satin bows marked the pews and glowing candles in aisle candelabra illuminated the white carpeted aisle.

Misses Patty Lapinski and Loreta Lapinski, both cousins of the groom, served as candle lighters and wore long blue gowns.

Miss Christy Aschcraft presided at the organ for Mrs. Shirley Loy and Dr. Earl Miller as they sang "The Hawaiian Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun."

For her wedding the bride chose a lovely full-length gown fashioned of candlelight silk organza. The tucked bodice with an overlay of Cluny lace had a victorian neckline and featured tiny self-covered buttons down the front to the natural waistline, which was defined with delicate lace and satin ribbon. Full bishop sleeves were created with a shoulder cap of Cluny lace and deep cuffs.

A detachable court train was bordered in matching lace. Her veil of bridal illusion fell softly from a camelot cap of Cluny lace trimmed with lace rosettes and satin bows. She carried a nosegay of white roses, stock blossoms, miniature carnations and ivy-colored streamers.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Lapinski, selected a formal dress of pale blue pure silk screen print, oriental in design complemented with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white summer flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lapinski were hosts at a rehearsal dinner on Thursday evening at Heritage House in St. Louis.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the newly married couple will live at the Pontoon Plaza Apartments.

The former Miss Williams recently graduated from Belleville Area Junior College, Department of Nursing, and is employed at Belleville Memorial Hospital.

Her husband attends Belleville Area Junior College, where he is studying law enforcement. He is working at Granite City Steel Co.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were Mrs. Karen Neukam, Miss Carol Wolfe, Mrs. Margaret Baker and Miss June Williams, a sister of the bride.

Their dresses were designed alike in the new two-piece look. The bodices of ivory knit voile featured high collars and full bishop sleeves with wide cuffs and the skirts of summer plaid taffeta in blue, pink and brown.

All the girls wore ivory picture hats with ribbon trim and held colonial bouquets of blue and pink daisies.

Leigh St. Clair Wolfe, the little flower girl, wore an ivory knit voile frock and carried a basket of daisies. She was escorted down the aisle by Stephen Kirk Brink, a nephew of the groom, served as ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Joseph Kozyak. John Brooks, Alan Crider, Bruce H. Williams, the latter two brothers of the bride and groom, complemented the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received at a reception given at the Croatian Home in Madison, immediately following the service. Mrs. Nancy Brink, a sister of the bride, attended the guest book and the wedding cake.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Williams chose a long gown of blue summer satin created with a high halter neckline accented with a dainty ruffle of self fabric and a short crop jacket. A matching ruffle formed the hemline of the softly gathered skirt. She wore silver accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Lapinski, selected a formal dress of pale blue pure silk screen print, oriental in design complemented with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white summer flowers.

AMBASSADORS IN BLUE will be in this area Thursday at 3:45 p.m. Waikiki Beach (above) serves as an exotic background for the Thunderbird's five-ship wedge formation, a maneuver they've performed in all 50 states and in 47 foreign countries, colonies and protectorates. Now in its 20th year, the team has performed over 1,600 times before more than 90 million people.

The pilots who fly the sleek red, white and blue aircraft are supported by 89 enlisted men, hand-picked throughout the Air Force. Since the team's activation in 1953, there has never been a show cancellation due to maintenance difficulty — evidence of the major role the ground crews plays in assuring that the aircraft are always in flight-ready condition. The Thunderbirds will perform at Scott Air Force Base, Aug. 31 as the highlight of the base's open house activities.

Bids Called Sept. 15 For Rt. 203 Widening

Bids for improvement of Route 203 from the north limits of Granite City to 1-270 at Mitchell—a stretch of 2.38 miles—have been called by the Illinois Department of Transportation for Sept. 15. The bids will be opened in Springfield.

Cost of the project has been estimated at $4.50 million, almost double the estimated cost of construction when the project first was initiated five years ago.

The improvement will consist of widening to two two-lane highways divided by a median. Bids also were called for 4.9 miles of pavement on Maryville Road northeast of Granite City in the county.

Improvement of Route 203 was among area developments for which Governor Richard Ogilvie assured quick action during a news conference here Aug. 11.

Dal Maxwell, former Granite Cityan who plays shortstop for the St. Louis Cardinals, is being honored at a luncheon today, receiving the Southside Kiwanis Club's annual sportsmanship award. Previous recipients include Stan Musial and, last year, Joe Torre.

David Selden was re-elected in St. Paul, Minn., Thursday as president of the American Federation of Teachers, taking a third two-year term, 2,937,391 over Kenneth Miesien.

An issue in the vote was a proposed merger between the 275,000-member AFT and the 1,100,000-member National Education Association. Selden favors the merger.

Don Freeman, Madison High School graduate and University of Illinois basketball star, twice "all-pro" with Florida and Utah, was acquired from the Dallas Chaparrals Thursday by the Indiana Pacers of the American Basketball Association.

Edwardsville teachers voted last night 162 to 18 to elect their school board's latest offer. They were to meet today in a park rather than attending a workshop.

In the Alton school district, teachers decided yesterday afternoon against striking at this time. Differences remain and are to be the subject of further negotiations.

In Collinsville, the teachers and then the board accepted settlement recommendations of a fact-finding committee.

Director Boyd Barton of the Springfield, Ill., Insuring Office of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development released yesterday the results of a postal vacancy survey conducted in the Madison and St. Clair Counties area on Feb. 28-March 13, 1972. The survey was made under the general supervision of 25 participating postmasters, including W. T. Overbeck of Granite City, William F. Clinton of Madison and Charles R. Simmons of Venice.

The postal vacancy survey conducted by the carriers revealed a total of 162,131 possible identified to residences, apartments and mobile homes. At the time of the survey, 4% were vacant — a total of 4,787 new or used vacant units.

Of the total possible deliveries surveyed, 17,155 were residences, of which 3,206 were vacant. The vacancy rate, 2.3%, included 170 newly completed units. A total of 878 residences was under construction.

Among the 17,506 apartment units surveyed, 7.3% were reported vacant. The carriers reported 128 new units among the 1,276 units which were vacant. There were 730 apartment units under construction on the survey dates.

A total of 7,470 mobile homes was surveyed; 4.1% were vacant. This proportion represented 305 vacant units.

Results of the postal vacancy surveys are expressed in qualitative terms because it is not feasible to collect quantitative data for this type of survey, it was noted.

The coverage for residences may include rental units in structural types such as row housing, side-by-side duplexes and conversions, as well as owner- and renter-occupied single family structures, because the U. S. Postal Service regards any single stop with one mail delivery (one mailbox) as a residence.

An apartment is a unit on a stop where more than one delivery of mail is possible.

Levee Boundary Study Is Begun by Committee

A study was launched at a meeting here Thursday afternoon of whether to ask Governor Ogilvie to support detaching the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

The non-governmental group has been asked to evaluate House Bill 2416, consider other methods of accomplishing the bill's goals and forward a recommendation to the governor by Nov. 15.

It was decided to gather related facts and then advise the governor and public of findings as they become available.

A six-member committee formed at the governor's request, led by John Gullion, chief state waterway engineer.

On another topic, Gullion reported later last week that a call will be issued Sept. 12 for bids to be opened Sept. 26 on construction of a low-level water outlet from Horseshoe Lake south to the Cahokia Canal.

Gillie Chairman of Scout Council Building Project

Mevin L. Gillie, manager of the local W. T. Grant store and vice-president of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, was appointed chairman of a committee to oversee the building of a new Boy Scout Service Center in Granite City.

Merrill Otwein, of Edwardsville, president, made the appointment at the August meeting of the scout executive board held at the Cottonwood Station development near Glen Carbon.

The will of the late Carl Graham left a $25,000 gift specifically earmarked for a new office. In 1964, Mr. Graham made a $5,000 donation for the building project.

The two Graham gifts, in addition to funds to be realized from sale of Camp Collinsville, a 5.2 acre tract of land near Route 157, are to be used to provide capital to begin construction.

The First Granite City National Bank has donated property in the 1800 block of Delmar Avenue for the new scout office.

Otwein appointed Henry D. Karandjoff, Dr. Thomas Layloff Jr. and Mitchell Milonski of Granite City, Dr. Ralph Miller of Greenville, Dr. M. W. Grimm of Collinsville and Charles Schmidt of Edwardsville to serve on the committee with Gillie.

Nominating Committee
Ray Grisham, district sales manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., was appointed Thursday evening by Otwein as chairman of the council nominating committee to recommend officers and members for the coming year.

Appointed to serve with Grisham are Norman Kinder Jr. and Leo Schermer of Granite City, Dr. Dan Elliott of Troy, Bob Simon of Edwardsville and Bob Bastilla of Highland.

G. Rollin Henz, council commissioner, reported plans to increase commissioner service to the 3,104 scouts currently active in the council.

Bill Donovan, finance chairman, reported that the council is keeping itself "in the black" but an additional $20,000 will be needed to meet scheduled 1972 costs.

A canoe clinic will be held at Woodland Park, Collinsville, and all units wishing to use council canoes are to have one adult representative in attendance. Bob Blew of Collinsville, camping chairman, said.

Record Camp Season
He noted that this camping season at Camp Sunnen, near Port St. Joe, was a record year. He praised Council Executive Bill Monica for camp supervision procedures.

A report on two successful council activities, the four-day Cub Scout Day Camp and the Cub Scout Day Camp, was made by W. F. "Mick" Strange, council activities chairman.

Dr. Layloff, a member of the activities committee, reported that plans are well under way for the fall camporee Oct. 13, 14 and 15 at the Hazel State Park near Carlyle.

David Fox of Granite City is organizing a speakers' bureau to better inform the general public about Boy Scouting.

William F. Winter, chairman of public relations committee, said.

Venice-Madison School Turnout Similar to '71

Enrollment in the Madison, and Venice public schools during the first day of school to-day was "about the same as last year," according to spokesmen for both school districts.

At Venice High School, 297 students reported today; 368 attended Venice Elementary School.

Attendance at Madison High School today was approximately 633 and still was being tabulated at press time at Madison Junior High School, where a double shift was initiated because of projected overcrowding.

The only Madison elementary school which had completed the attendance count at noon was Louis Burr School, where 318 students enrolled this morning.
